Experience and Quality

Educo has over 15 years experience in English education and is accredited by MIUR based on the Ministerial Directive n. 170 of 21/03/2016. Educo is a Trinity College London Exam Centre (Registered Exam Center 64205) and our TEFL- Performance and Play course for tutors is accredited by the International TEFL Accreditation Council. So, you can be sure that you and your students are gaining the best quality experience.

An Ongoing Commitment

When you complete an Educo teacher course you don't just gain the first-hand experience of our expert teacher trainers but gain ongoing support from a company that cares. All our workshops and courses are accompanied by post-teaching materials to put your knowledge into practice. You can also access our free resources online, get discounts on other Educo products and our offices are always available to answer your queries.

What we do...

Educo has four key principles that we believe all teachers and learners should share:

Global Citizenship, Digital Innovation, Creative Application and Motivation to Learn. With these four principles we hope to create well rounded 'future proof' teachers and students!

How we do it...

The Educo team works as an Educational Collective with expertise across a range of methodologies and teaching practices. We learn from each other and share what we believe to be the best practices for creating students and teachers that are motivated, innovative, creative and culturally aware.
